

Digital Rockstar Remix Basics Part 1

TIP 1

The first thing that we need to do is source some Acapellas, Youtube is a great source for all types of Acapellas, try and get studio grade vocals if possible rather than the D.I.Y type as the quality on those tend to be very poor and from experience are more challenging to mix and don't sit well with your music however if your only using the Acapella as a reference feel free to use whatever gets your creative juices flowing.

Once you've gotten the Acapella that you want to use you're going to have to find the Key and Tempo of it. I use Tunebat.com for this as it's a very reliable source and when I cross reference with other platforms they always have the same result.
